

Dear Mr. Hecht,

We – the RENOLIT group – are a worldwide manufacturer of plastic foils and adequate products for technical applications. In all the markets we have gained a superior market position. The innovative and high-quality plastic products of RENOLIT are an essential part of the final product our customers manufacture and which ensure a steady increase of the quality of our everyday life.

In order to achieve above, a strong process of improving ourselves has been steadily followed up. Efficiency is the result of used experience.

We are identifying our highest potentials for the purpose of improvement and explicitly aim at them. We steadily increase our capacity, reduce waste and redundancy, and abolish sources of errors and defects of security. Thus, costs are reduced and our jobs are ensured.

Worldwide, we are operating 42 calender lines and 64 extrusion.

The key to our success amongst others is the known process capability as well as the practiced process control.

That is exactly why we are relying on the quality of your products and the experience of your company which has been proved in the many projects done together with you. The used thickness and control measurement systems are the base of our economical production as well as the trend-setting products.

It is our future intention to actively keep influence on the requirements regarding our products and to follow the path together with you.

I thank you for the good cooperation in the past and I am sure that you will be a powerful partner for us in the future with your innovative and high-quality products.

Sincerely yours,

RENOLIT AG
